ALBERTA POOL ELEVATORS EARN MILLION DOLLARS

The Alberta Pool Elevators announced last week the distribution of approximately one million dollars in excess earnings from last year's operations. This sum will be distributed to Pool members who patronized their own facilities and on the following basis:

- 2c per bushel for wheat shipped over the platform to Pool terminals.
- 2½c per bushel on wheat special blended in Pool elevators.
- 4c a bushel on wheat delivered to Pool elevators on the cash ticket basis.

Cheques covering the distribution will be in the mail in the course of a week or ten days. This sum is available from excess earnings of the Pool elevator system, which included the operation of the country and terminal elevators after 6½c interest had been provided for on Elevator Reserve deductions; the provision of 5% for depreciation; the payment of all operation expenses and the setting up of an allowance for certain contingencies.

An idea of the benefit of the Pool elevator system may be obtained from the following figures:

Pool members who special blended their grain in Pool elevators paid 2½c a bushel handling charges on delivery of their grain, and will now have 2½c a bushel returned to them.

Pool members who loaded grain over the loading platform, and consigned it to the Pool and its terminals paid 5c and will have 2c a bushel returned to them.

Pool members who disposed of their grain by the cash ticket method paid an average of 4½c per bushel, but will have 4c returned to them, but they will have the advantage of an immediate payment and of guaranteed grades.

During the present crop year the directors of the Pool have arranged to pay for storage of 1c a bushel for wheat delivered after December 15th, and an additional 1c a bushel for wheat delivered after January 15th, in order that an inducement may be offered to members to hold their grain on their farms until the heavy rush is over. The idea is to permit Pool elevators to handle a larger volume of Pool grain, thus extending the benefit over a greater portion of the membership. It should be clearly understood that the maximum amount payable for farm storage will be 2c a bushel.

I. O. D. E. PRIZE IS PRESENTED TO MISS JEAN MCGREGOR

Unique and interesting, in that it was the first occasion of its kind, was the presentation of the I.O.D.E. prize of a ten dollar gold piece to Miss Jean McGregor, who had been successful in obtaining the highest marks in her June Grade IX examinations.

Mrs. R. C. Marshall, Provincial President, I.O.D.E., together with a number of the members of the Local Chapter, assembled at the school at 3 o'clock.

Principal Crowther received the deputation, after which he explained to the pupils the purpose of the visit of the ladies.

He then called on Mrs. Marshall who made a brief but interesting address on the interest of the I.O.D.E. in the matter of education.

During her remarks Mrs. Marshall said it was not the winning of the prize, as such as the effort put forth by the pupils to win, that was the object the I.O.D.E. had in offering such prizes.

She then called on Jean, and congratulated her on her success.

Mrs. T. Chamberlain made the presentation and she understood the competition had been keen, and there for all the more credit due the winner. Mrs. Chamberlain congratulated Jean and wished her continued success. Jean replied very graciously, thanking the donors for their gift.

Mr. Crowther spoke very kindly of the interest and co-operation with the schools of the Local Chapter I.O.D.E., which kindly sentiment was duly appreciated by the members.

PERENNIAL SOW THISTLE PENNICIOUS WEED MUST BE CONTROLLED

E. J. Zwilling, Provincial Field Supervisor, who was in town a few days ago, states that the perennial sow thistle is likely to become a great menace to property in Alberta. It has driven the farmers off their farms in parts of Manitoba. The same will happen here unless immediate steps are taken to control it.

In view of the fact that this district is becoming widely infested with this weed it is necessary at this time to issue an extra word of warning to the owners of land on which this pest has appeared.

While the difficulty of eradicating Sow Thistle is due to its creeping root stock, it must also be strongly emphasized that at this season of the year the weed blooms freely, the seed matures rapidly, and as each seed is fitted with a silky parachute it is able to travel distances by the agency of the wind.

It is quite evident (from the number of patches scattered over this district) that in past years the farmers have failed to recognize this pernicious weed and allowed it to go to seed. That is a glaring error at this time.

This year the Provincial Government have put extra weed inspectors in the field, and these men have been examining the farmers by identifying the weed and advising as to its control and eradication.

If any farmer who has been notified of the existence of perennial sow thistle on his land, neglects to destroy or control or refuses to pluck it, he is liable to prosecution and will be strictly dealt with under the terms of the Noxious Weeds Act.

The eradication of sow thistle is a most difficult problem and several methods are recommended.

1. Plow and cultivate so as to destroy roots and prevent any leaf growth.

THE PROVINCIAL PRESIDENT VISITS LOCAL I. O. D. E.

The special meeting of the Earl of Strathmore Chapter, which had been arranged in honor of the visit of the Provincial President, Mrs. R. C. Marshall, proved a thoroughly delightful and beneficial afternoon.

Miss Florence Garrett presided at the piano.

After the opening exercises and two or three matters of business had been arranged, the time was entirely given over to Mrs. Marshall. She dealt at length with the objects and work of the Order League, and spoke of the good it is accomplishing. Particularly did she emphasize the importance of the work the Alberta Chapter are undertaking.

Mrs. Marshall, by her easy, quiet, lucid manner of address, charms all her hearers, and she was followed with the closest attention throughout.

In a neat little speech, Mrs. Young moved a cordial vote of thanks for the interesting and elevating address, which was seconded by Mrs. Souden, and heartily endorsed by all present.

There was a very gratifying number present, the ladies all personally meeting the Provincial President.

Tea was served at prettily decorated tables, formed in U-shape, and adorned with white flag, colored ribbons forming in flag-shape, flowers and autumn foliage, making a decidedly artistic effect, on which many commented. Delicious sandwiches, cakes and tea were thoroughly enjoyed by all.

Mrs. McGregor was the able convener of the tea arrangements, and was assisted by Mrs. Marsh, Mrs. Moran, Miss McGuinn and Mrs. N. McLeod.

Pleasant comments on the success of the afternoon were general.

1. Dig out roots wherever possible, dry and burn.
2. Burn the seed.
3. Cover with tar paper or straw manure.
4. Use of chemical spray.

The latter method has been largely adopted this season with fair results and it is hoped that in the future complete eradication will be effected as the location of a number of patches precludes the feasibility of cultural methods.

When it is realized that an estimate of Manitoba's loss last year from this weed was $20,000,000, it is not difficult to visualize what will happen in Alberta in the near future, unless remedial measures are adopted at once, and it is up to every individual to co-operate with the "powers that be" in order to eradicate this weed menace.

KEEPING WINTER ROADS OPEN RECEIVING ATTENTION

NEW JAPANESE MINISTER?

Vicount C. Okabe, of Tokyo, who, it is reported, will occupy the recently created diplomatic post of Japanese minister to Canada.

A. B. Mackay, president of the Alberta Automobile Association, and Fred R. Brason, president of the Calgary Automobile Club were in town on Thursday last, enroute to Medicine Hat and Lethbridge.

A few of the members of the Strathmore Probus Club and Mayor Strathmore met them, and had an informal talk regarding the carrying out of the plans made some time ago, with regard to keeping the road to Calgary open next winter.

Mr. Mackay and Mr. Brason are each very enthusiastic over the success made last winter on the Calgary-High River highway, and were delighted to learn of the progress made by the Strathmore Probus Club in obtaining funds to carry on their part of the work.

They each stressed the point of securing ample funds, and suggested that a further canvass be made, not only with the people of the town, but that the farmers should be given an opportunity of subscribing, and plans made for the organization of groups of farmers in each district.

The snow fences that would be needed entail a considerable expense to install, and also money required to purchase machinery for clearing the roads.

In Calgary plans are under way to organize "a big drive" among the business men to put Calgary financially in shape, and not only to look after the east road, but the other approaches as well.

Mr. Mackay is leaving shortly for Winnipeg, where a meeting of the Canadian Automobile Association will convene, and when special attention will be given to organizing the Province of Saskatchewan, Saskatchewan has the reputation of being several years behind in the matter of good roads. This is a very important link in the reaching of an all Canadian highway, for which an urgent appeal will be made to the Federal Government.

Thos. E. Wright, president of the Strathmore Probus Club, outlined to the visitors what had been done locally by the Probus Club, which met with much commendation from both Mr. Mackay and Mr. Brason, who hoped that other small towns in the province would follow the example set by Strathmore, and equal or exceed their splendid efforts in this very important community work of keeping the roads open for winter traffic.

Just what good highways mean is very ably presented by A.M. F. G. England, of Regina, who has just returned from a trip to Ontario, about which he says:

"It was the most enjoyable vacation, I think, that I ever spent in my life," remarked the Dean of the Regina City Council. "The highways were wonderful, and after spending two days at the Canadian National Exhibition, we drove over a great part of Ontario and Ontario. It is the one side and Ottawa via Kingston to the west."

He remarked in one publication automobile tourists from the United States this year numbered 10,000,000, bringing an estimated amount of $600,000,000 into Ontario. Tourists from other countries numbered another 2,500,000, which ran the total of millions expended in the province by tourists this year up to $100,000,000. Surely a profitable industry!

GRANT HALL REPORTS WESTERN CANADIANS VERY OPTIMISTIC

MONTREAL, Que.—Returning to headquarters from an extended tour of Western Canada, Grant Hall, Vice-President of the Canadian Pacific Railway, states that Western Canadians are more optimistic this year than ever before. "It is not a recurrence of boom conditions," he explained, "but rather an appreciation of the opportunities for solid agricultural and industrial development, which are evident in practically every district. In all probability the wheat crop will be the heaviest and most profitable on record and the year has seen important movements in the cattle industry and in other lines of agriculture."

SPORT NOTES

BUD FISHER CLEANS UP A FORTUNE ON PONIES

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y.—Bud Fisher, creator of "Mud and Lard," does not have to rely on revenue from the comic strips to keep him well supplied with the negotiable long green. He has been making the bookmakers Pay and Pay and Pay Ann Howe.

At the conclusion of the second week of racing at the Spa the fanciest cartoonist was exactly $25,000 in front and going strong. Since that time he has more than held his own and boldly announces that he expects to win at least a half-million dollars before the end of the racing season at the Spa.

When Air Chief a two-year-old son of Plutious Responde, beat hard-luck Espinoza in a claiming race, Fisher and his friends beat the "ring" out of close to $100,000. It was the largest coup ever pulled off on an Eastern track.

Fisher was forced to take 15 to 1 for $10,000. He got 2 to 1 third for a similar amount. His winnings on the race were $180,000. Commission for Fisher were unable to get the 50 to 1 in the opening price posted, but quite a few wagers were recorded at these odds.

Had John J. Williams, a 10 to 1 shot, beaten Peter Peter in the fifth race, Fisher would have won $100,000.

Instead he won only $10,000 to the race. Fisher stated that he would have wagered $50,000 on Air Chief had John J. Williams been successful.

WILL THOMPSON BE JOE GAN'S SUCCESSOR

CHICAGO, Ill.—"The closest approach to the immortal Joe Gans flashed menacingly over the pugilistic horizon today. The new star is Yonah Jack Thompson, steel-looking young San Francisco negro, who caused a startling upset by knocking out Joe Dundee, of Baltimore, the world's welterweight champion, in the second round of their scheduled ten-round battle in the White Sox park. Thompson is the welterweight titleholder. In fact, if not officially, only because of a weight technicality.

The only reason Thompson is not proclaimed champion today was because Dundee, forced him to weigh 175 pounds, one pound over the welterweight limit.

Thompson, in conquering the welterweight king, made a tremendous impression. He seems to have inherited the great skill of his famous fellow man, Gans. He possesses a sterling combination of a perfect boxer and a terrific two-handed puncher. His style is strikingly like the old lightweight master.

He knocked Dundee down twice in the second round and stood there waiting to deliver the finishing punch, when Referee Eddie Purdy carefully stepped between them and stopped the uneven battle. Purdy's action gave Thompson a technical knockout victory, but actually Dundee was out on his feet when Purdy carried him to his corner.

Young Gans automatically and deliberately used up the first round in feeling out the champion. There were several changes of blows with honours even. In the second, Thompson swarmed all over the titleholder. A right hand shot to Dundee's chin sent him reeling across the ring. Thompson, cool as an iceberg, followed his advantage with a relentless two-fisted attack. Another right cross knocked Dundee sprawling across the ring and stretched him flat on his face.

The champion got up at nine, but was a helpless, sorry-looking fighter. Thompson charged in again with both hands flashing to Dundee's chin. Dundee sought shelter from that rain of fists on the ropes. But Thompson stopped back, measured him, banged over another fury of punches and Dundee went down again—this time on his back. He pulled himself to his feet at the count of nine, but his arms hung limp, his eyes were glassy and his legs stiff as he stood there reeling and waiting for the advance of his conqueror. He was defenceless and Referee Purdy waved the negro to his corner.

CLEVELAND INDIANS TRIED FOR GERRIG AND HORNSBY

CLEVELAND, Ohio.—Alva Bradley, president and owner of the Cleveland Indians, offered George Burns, veteran first baseman, and $175,000 cash for Lou Gehrig, New York Yankees first baseman, last spring, he revealed in an interview today.

Miller Huggins, the Yankees' pilot rejected the offer, although at the time he and Gehrig were bickering heat in 27 seconds. Gratian Barr, the favorite, did not start.

GENE TUNNEY IS BECOMING A SPLENDID COPY

NEW YORK—It begins to look as though this fellow Gene Tunney—you remember him as heavyweight champion—is going to be better "copy" as an "ex" than as an active ring figure.

Scarcely a day goes by but what someone doesn't shed new light on his career, his eccentricities and probable future.

Along comes one story that a ham and egg jarring partner knocked his plumb gooley in an informal set at Spectacular, N. Y., while training for his battle with Jack Dempsey last September.

If some the partner baited Gene over the eye with his head and then slammed one to the stalwart one's face, which sent Gene into a semi-dazed condition from which he didn't recover for days.

Not a word of such a calamity was breathed at the time. This despite the fact his camp swarmed with sport writers, most of whom knew good copy when they see or hear of it. This, also, despite the fact that the gentleman who snacked Mr. Tunney for a row of incoherent mutterings on the relative merits of Shakespeare and Nick Carter would be very apt to talk about the matter.

It seems the two blows were severe enough in their results to prompt Tunney to plan an early retirement from the ring. In fact he is quoted as saying that he hadn't fully recovered when he met Dempsey—that one of the pokes Dempsey took at him had in the seventh round finally cleared his brain.

We'll tell the world those punches must have cleared it if there were any clouds floating about. For the world agrees that Mr. Tunney does some rapid thinking about that time. Planned a whole 1,500-meter run which kept him out of Jack's way the rest of the round.

And then the tip comes out that Tunney is going to become a New York banker when he returns from his lunatic guilting outing with Thornton Wilder.

He's going to take a daily work-out with bond interest, accruals, debentures, loans and whatever else comes the way of a bank president.

If Gene Tunney ever does enter one of those nice mahogany conference rooms in a secluded corner of a marble warehouse, it'll take more than an introduction from Tex Rickard or Billy Gould to flout on an open-air fight.

CANADIAN FLOUR MILLS ENJOYING PROSPEROUS TIMES

MONTREAL, Que.—The Canadian flour milling industry is experiencing better times judging by figures of output. In the first five months of the present year 7,650,000 barrels of flour were manufactured as against 6,790,000 barrels in the corresponding period of 1927, an increase of 1,150,000 barrels. Wheat flour exports in the twelve month period totalled 7,686 barrels worth $10,889 as compared with $2,515 barrels worth $66,520 in the previous corresponding twelve months.

HEARD ON THE STREET

"It's got so these days," complained Casey Nering, "that you can hardly get married unless you can show the girl two licenses."

"Two licenses?" exclaimed Bill Saunders.

"Yes—marriage and automobile."

"Oh, I don't know about that," said Bill, "I didn't."

"When I'm dead and gone you'll never get another 'man like me,'" said the gloomy husband.

"Well, that will help some," replied the hopeful and cheerful spouse.

The teacher had been giving his class a lecture in English composition, and when he had finished he asked the bright boy of the class to write a very long sentence. The boy wrote "Imprisonment for life."

In Montana a railway bridge had been destroyed by fire, and it was necessary to replace it. The bridge engineer and his staff were ordered to haste to the place. Two days later came the superintendent of the division.

Alighting from his private car, he encountered an old master bridge builder.

"Bill," said the superintendent, "I want this job rushed. Every hour's delay costs the company money. Have you got the engineer's plans for the new bridge?"

"I don't know," said the bridge builder, "whether the engineer has the picture drawn yet or not, but the bridge is up and the trains is passing over it."

Bob Humberly, "flew" Jim Gannon getting on with that school teacher he's calling on now?

Revel Rod: "Well, every time he goes to see her she keeps him half an hour overtime for being naughty."

Aunt Het wrote: "I planned up my skirt at home one day just to see how I'd feel wearing 'em short, as I declare to you I wouldn't of felt no wickered if I'd of stole something."

Small Boy to visitor: "Have you got a wife?"

Visitor: "No, sonny, I haven't."

Small Boy: "Then who tells you what to do?"

"Are you a tramp, or what?"

"Well, mum, I'm a victim of involuntary bankruptcy."

Mrs. Blank: "What does your husband like for his breakfast?"

Wife: "Anything I haven't got in the house."

"Well, Audrey, how do you like your new teacher?"

"She is very nice, but I can't believe her. Yesterday she said five and four make nine and today she says that three and six make nine."

The man of the house went into the kitchen and informed the cook that his wife's suit was coming on in an indefinite visit.

"I've made out a list of all her favorite dishes for you," he said.

"Yes, sir," replied the cook.

"And," he added, "the first time you serve one of these you're fired!"

"These chickens were hatched in an incubator?"

"My word! They look just like real ones!"

He: "We've got to carry the banner at the next hole."

She: "Why should we? What are we paying the caddy for?"

Justine, watching his uncle milk the cows and then feed the calves with milk, turned to him and said encouragingly:

"Uncle, you don't waste that milk 'cause when the calves grow up they'll give it all back to you again."

Old Sam, the cheerful, was sitting on the roof of his house during a severe flood, watching the water flow past. A neighbor, who had a boat, rowed across to him.

"All your fowls washed away this morning, Sam?"

"No," answered old Sam pleasantly, "but the ducks can swim."

"Apple trees gone, too?"

"Yes; but the crop wasn't worth anything."

"I see the river's reached your window."

"That's all right. They wanted washin'."

Percy Farish: "I hear, Constable, that while you were in Calgary, you took up golf. How'd you like it?"

Constable Harrison: "Well, it ain't bad. It's a bit harder (than) belting turkeys at a bit easier than digging potatoes; anyway, you ask Ernie White."

"What's the idea of that set of traffic lights over the market?" inquired Jack Crivlin, calling on daughter.

Mrs. father's idea," she explained. "The red stays on till 11:30; then he flashes on the amber, and at 12 the green. And, you know," she added, "father is a traffic cop."

Mother: "Son, do I smell tobacco on your breath?"

Milk: "Yes, mother."

Mother: "Then you will have to stop going out with those girls."

Doctor: "Do you adhere to my rules in regard to drinking?"

Patient: "Yes, six glasses a day."

Doctor: "But I limited you to three."

Patient: "I know. But another doctor allows me three."

She: "Darrest, will you love me when I'm old?"

He: "Love you? I shall idolize—er—"

—you're not going to look like your mother, are you?"

"Some men are born great, some achieve greatness, and some—"

"Just grate upon you."

Golfer (to new member): "They say this club is haunted; a phantom golfer goes around the course every night."

Ernie Whiteside: "In how many?"

Jane: "Do you think that awful story about Ethel is true?"

Joan: "It must be. I heard it from her dearest friend."

Mary: "What's the matter with Frank?"

Betty: "Eye strain. He fell in love with a chorus girl and couldn't afford anything better than a gallery seat."

Mrs. Blank: "John, I believe you are deceiving me."

Mr. Blank: "I've been trying to for 15 years."

Mr. Turner: "Do you think that I am as wise as the old owl?"

Mrs. Turner: "Now, John, you know you never could act."

Teacher: "When was Rome built?"

Vincent: "At night."

Teacher: "Who told you that?"

Vincent: "You did. You said Rome wasn't built in a day."

Pupil: "Sir, your little son has broke his leg."

Teacher: "How many times must I tell you that it is not broke; it's broken!"

My wife's made an awful discovery. And you will agree it's the worst: She's learned I get paid on the 15th. The same as I do on the first.

Her Husband: "Is that the evening gown that cost me $400?"

Mrs. Upstye: "This is it, isn't it a dream?"

Her Husband: "Well, I'll say this much for it: at that rate I sure couldn't afford to cover you decently."

"Have you ever driven a car?" the lady applicant for a license was asked.

"One hundred and twenty thousand miles," put in her husband, who was standing nearby, "and never had a hand on the wheel."

Maid: "The furniture man is here."

Mistress: "I'll see him in a minute. Tell him to take a chair."

Maid: "I did; but he said he would start with the piano and radio."

"Why are you so anxious to start for the North Pole?"

"I want to go so while it's still an expedition, not a side trip."

"What do you think of Jim Weir's tennis?"

Fred Dunn: "Oh, I think he's singularly bad in doubles, and doubly bad in singles."

VANCOUVER SUN

HAS TARIFF
INDIGESTION ATTACK

When the Fordney tariff bill was first discussed at Washington, few Americans thought the best customer, aimed at Canada, America's best customer, was then buying annually $400,000,000 worth of American goods. Most Americans thought the tariff so unjust, that United States in her own selfish interest could not afford to let the Fordney bill become law.

Canada had a right to resent and resist the tariff. But Canada is now paying the price of being too cowardly. That a tariff war with United States could not injure Canada more than she is now being injured is proven by Canada's ability as an independent trading country with foreign trade of $250 per capita against the United States foreign trade of $100 per head.

The day that the Fordney tariff was first mooted in the United States, Premier Mackenzie King should have got up on the floor of Parliament, and declared by Western Union and T. S. N. should have served notice on United States that the moment that Fordney bill became law, a Canadian bill having a similar effect against American products, would go into force in Canada. But Canada did nothing. The Fordney tariff of two cents a pound against Canadian cattle actually hurts the American farmer who used to buy raw range cattle from Canada at five or six cents per pound and get two or three cents per pound for fattening those cattle for American markets. And the industrial manufacturer, it is the "finishing" man who makes the big profit.

On wheat, it is the American miller, not the American farmer, who is really getting the benefit of the tariff against Canadian wheat.

But the unfairness and the indignity part of the American tariff is that operative portion which, notwithstanding Canada's $800,000,000 worth of annual purchases from United States, allows the President to immediately barter out by tariff any Canadian article which happens to compete with American goods. That Treasury Decision, and "T.D." as it is now popularly described, has been used against Canadiana (even to the detriment of the United States consumer) to a degree and in a manner that no self-respecting Canadian business man can any longer submit.

A British Columbia quarry some months ago secured a contract for pulp stones to be shipped to United States. Ten days after that contract was signed, pressure was brought to bear on Washington and at once a "T.D." was put into effect, placing a fifty per cent duty against Canadian pulp stones; the Canadian producer had to pay an extra $5,000 duty or face a lawsuit for failure to carry out his contract. The same treatment is coming along every month and from a country that enjoys $800,000,000 annual business from Canada; United States in trade is treating Canada as if she were a penal colony; this has got to stop.

The Battle of Waterloo was fought out in the open on a general principle policy, the policy of mass formation. Canada is trying to fight out her tariff problems with the old mass formation front, while United States is adopting in tariff the methods of modern trench warfare. Canada has been fighting a bold friendly front on reciprocal trade while United States has been "mining" and "sapping" at Canadian trade until she is actually undermining Canada's national economic existence.

Canadian business men should not blame American business men if they find Canadians sitting down acquiescing to this and that foolish and unfair tariff against Canada. But Canadian business men must blame themselves and their political leaders who from Sir Robert Borden's budget in 1919 down to Robb's budget of 1927, have contained tariff reductions. Mr. Robb in 1927 finally called a halt.

But with the present trading cards all stacked against us, stopping tariff reduction against United States is not enough. Canada's acquiescence to America's tariff war has made United States hold in her declarations, bolder in her actions and bolder in her intentions, until today there seems to be no limit to the extent United States is willing to transgress against Canadian trade and Canadian feeling. In stead of yielding further, the present we already lost must be recovered; the trade concessions Canada has granted in the past must be balanced or cancelled.

Canada will now have to do what she should have done ten years ago what the Borden, the Meighens and the Mackenzie Kings had not the vitality to do, or for some reason have left undone.

Canada has got to tell United States. In the freest and frankest and firmest way, that the present tariff war against Canada must stop; that present trading arrangements must be immediately put on an equitable basis, or failing that, Canada will be compelled to take means and measures to protect the people and the savings of her ten million people. Canada has long tried to be an honest, friendly neighbor of United States but that attitude is now being used against us. Canada cannot be cowardly.

The Vancouver Sun seems to have a very bad tariff indigestion attack, no doubt caused by its recent flip from being an ardent supporter of a low tariff to becoming an enthusiastic supporter of a high tariff. It was ever thus that a new convert becomes most zealous.

The Vancouver Sun has a superabundance of opiates to hurt at the United States for enacting the Fordney tariff, but does not express one regret that it was Canada that dined the Reciprocity Treaty, that would have given Canada just the market that the Vancouver Sun now so much desires. The United States was willing, and passed the Reciprocity deal, which, after a most strenuous campaign of "no truck or trade with the Yankees", engineered by the Canadian manufacturers was rejected by the Canadian voters.

Following this the United States enacted the Fordney tariff, which now discounts the Vancouver Sun, and the Sun has to blame the American people. If any blame is to be attached for the closing of the American market, it is applicable to the Canadians, who plainly told the American people they did not want a reciprocity deal.

In 1886 when the McKinley tariff was enacted, which shut out the Ontario barley, it was predicted that the Ontario farmer was forever ruined; but he wasn't. He immediately began to develop the dairy business, which put Canada on the map as a cheese exporting country, and put the eastern Ontario farmer in a prosperous condition.

PRESENT HOPE PRICES FOR SOME TIME

A favorable outlook for the swine industry during the next two years is indicated by the midsummer report issued by the United States Bureau of Agricultural Economics. It is expected that the supply of hogs will be considerably less for the next twelve Months than for the year previous, and indications are that both domestic and foreign demand for pork products will show improvement.

The present hog price situation and the anticipated supplies of hogs and hog products for the next four months, says the report, "indicates that the peak of prices in the seasonal rise, which usually takes place in the summer and fall, will probably be reached by the middle of September, and that prices will continue at about that level until the usual winter decline begins. In view of the smaller market supply, and a probable improvement in demand for hog products, hog prices are expected to be on a higher level next winter and spring than during the same period a year ago." It is not anticipated, however, that prices will reach the level attained in the winter of 1926-1927.

An expected decrease in hog production in important European countries will, it is believed, bring about some improvement in the foreign demand for pork products. It is considered probable, however, that hog production in Europe will continue on a higher level during the next ten years than during the ten year period now ending.

PARLIAMENTARY VISITORS LEARN MUCH TEACH MUCH.

Canada at the present moment is being favored by the presence of visiting legislators from every part of the British Empire. They have come to fraternize, exchange ideas and opinions, see Canada, and generally have a good time. Most of them have come to learn more than to teach, and they will probably carry home many salutary lessons learned here. The net effect of their visit must be for the good of the Empire and the continent. Anything that brings the peoples of the Empire together, as the present visit of the Parliamentarians will do, is a good thing. The conference is doing, must help the whole and also every part.

Our visitors will find that Canada has much to teach them. First of all it may be, that although we are a nation small in numbers, living alongside of a powerful and rich neighbor, which would find it very much to its own interest to enter into political and economic union with that neighbor, there is practically not a scrap of separatist sentiment in Canada. Canada is intensely Canadian, which is as it should be, but equally intensely British. While in many of our ways and manner, and in our modes of speech, we may seem American we are not so. Far from it. Not that in saying this we intend any slight to our good neighbors, but merely that at heart we are different; we think Canadianly and Imperially, believe in Canada and the Empire, and love them both; so much in fact, that the greater opportunities that must be ours were we to accept annexation, that United States make no appeal to us. We are Canadian and British and shall remain so.

The real unity in diversity that obtains here, will also strike our visitors as something splendid. Two races of different languages, different faiths, largely and different mentalities, live here side by side in the completest harmony. They are the most splendid exhibition of compromise that the Empire holds. Without either surrendering any cardinal principle, each race works gladly with the other for the common good, for Canada, and for not their individual identity not any kind of race, but finding in their common work for the land they love the factor that makes them one. Another thing, no higher example of the British method of making friends or enemies has ever been given to the world. Our visiting Parliamentarians may well take home with them this lesson learned in Canada with the sure knowledge that the supply of hogs will be considerably less for the next twelve can but have the same effect.

On the other hand, we shall have much to learn from those who have come to our shores and broad acres in this fashion. All of us will gain a better and bigger idea of the Empire and of the various commonwealths represented here at this time. Ireland and India alike will be able to state their respective problems so that we shall understand them better and more sympathetically. Australia will perhaps be able to do something to make her butter acceptable to our dairy farmers. Other parts, other things. Canada will know the Empire better, the Empire will know Canada better. This will all act for the good of everybody concerned, and make the task of both Canadian and Imperial statesmanship an easier one in future.

FIELD TO FLOUR

IN FOUR DAYS

OWEN SOUND, Ont.—From field to flour in four days, the record established by Stuart Shoulbake, a Kipp town township farmer, who was among the first in North Grey to harvest his wheat. He cut the wheat the middle of the week. By Friday it was threshed, and Saturday it was sold to a local milling firm and milled into flour. Mr. Shoulbake received $1.20 per bushel for his crop of 400 bushels. The entire crop stood No. 1.

Slats' Diary

BY ROSS PARQUHAR

Friday—Pa returned this a.m. from a trip to Detroit for his firm. He was telling about a chicken restaurant he had in Detroit. When he got to the bill he discovered they had charged him for a whole chicken. Pa said he was glad he didn't order root beer.
Saturday—Ma is mad at Mr. Gilman now. It was at Mr. Gilman now for a remark he made once when him & Mrs. Gilman was at the house.
They were talking about operations & Mr.
Gilman said he had the foolish question in the world was to ask a woman where she was vaca-tioned.

Sunday—It is very doubtful if Mr.
Tierney will ever speak to Pa again after the bad break Pa made tonight when we was over to his house. Mr.
Tierney was showing us & the some pitchers he had took and coming to 1 m. Tierney said, what do you think of this? He looked at it and he blamed, why Tierney, the little rascal looks just like you. Mr. Tierney smiled queerly and said-yes dear man but it is a extra pitcher of my line we went home shortly afterward and ma did all the talking.

Tuesday—Vin was reading to Pa about going into Rexall's store & he told the clerk give me a copy of that new peace. Funnyface, Jack Covlin, the clerk, snickered and you ain't so darned hansom yourself.

I forgot

To pay my subscription to the Standard;
that's the explanation
we often get when subscribers eventually discover that they are in arrears. The amount is small, but in the aggregate totals an amount that can always be used in a publishing office.

Look up your label and see if you have
"Forgot".
THANK YOU.

EMPIRE'S LARGEST

Built from designs originated in the motive power department of the Canadian Pacific Railway, the 3100 is the largest passenger locomotive in the British Empire and the most powerful. Canadian workmen turned her out of Angus Shops, a graceful mechanism nearly one hundred feet long, with a tractive effort of 60,500 pounds equal to 5,885 horses power. The use of Canadian nickel steel parts has reduced its weight to 42,400 pounds, but the high ratio of tractive power to weight is a notable feature of the new engine. The boiler pressure, 275 pounds, is the highest of any locomotive in Canada. The eight drive wheels have a diameter of 75 inches and the cast nickel-steel cylinders are 26½ inches by 30 inches. The length over all of the new Canadian Pacific Toronto-Montreal run.
